We all must be a part of remembering that our Veterans have shaped our freedom during many wars. Great sacrifices were made by families at home and abroad. The freedoms we enjoy today were purchased at a great price. Preserving our freedom for all future generations relies on our abilities to know and understand our history.

We can learn from the lessons of war by fostering an understanding of the sacrifices and dedication of veterans and their families. We can teach our children the price of war and the cost of freedom by understanding the footsteps of the veterans featured in the Walk of Heroes.

We can rejoice and appreciate the freedoms and rights we enjoy as citizens of the United States, which have been persevered by unselfish acts. We must honor our Veterans and never forget their commitment, dedication, and sacrifice. Help us:

REMEMBER, REFLECT and REJOICE because
FREEDOM IS NOT FREE
